Powered by WildFish.

Science you can trust, powered by people who care.

SmartRivers is our scientifically robust citizen science toolkit.

We empower local communities to collect
professional-grade
data and take action
to protect wild fish
and their habitats.

We offer comprehensive training and support for local organisations to conduct professionally comparable ecological monitoring with their volunteer network.

Want to establish professional-
grade monitoring
on your river?

Our approach to monitoring generates data that matches the standards used by regulatory bodies – bridging critical gaps in river monitoring caused by ongoing resource constraints.

Join our SmartRivers community today

You will need:

- A host organisation
- A group lead/coordinator
- Around 10 volunteers
